

Chatham Marketplace Ends

We serve our owners and employees, our local shoppers, our local farmers, our local business community and our boarder community by being a flourishing co-op that

- provides healthy, quality food
- supports local agriculture
- strengthens the local economy
- is a good place to work
- has an active ownership
- practices environmental stewardship
- is a catalyst for cooperation among community members
- serves as a community hub
- advances the well being of each community member

Do you want to be an active owner in your local food co-op?

In an effort to help our shoppers afford the benefits of being a co-op owner, we have established the Melissa Frey Family Ownership Fund, in the name of our founder. We will offer 3 cost-share grants* per year, making an Ownership in Chatham Marketplace only $30 (normally $100).

Melissa Frey Ownership Fund Application
